

St. Mary's Catholic Church

Greenville, South Carolina

19 October 2014

Dear Friends in Christ,

1978 was the year of the three popes. Blessed Paul VI died on 6 August 1978 after serving as Bishop of Rome for 15 years, and John Paul I was elected on 26 August. Then after only 33 days in office, John Paul I died of a heart attack in his sleep, necessitating a second conclave in two months. The shock of those circumstances created the possibility for something that was until then unimaginable – the election of a non-Italian pope, and on 16 October 1978 the Archbishop of Krakow, Karol Cardinal Wojtyla, was elected and took the name John Paul II.

The new pope publicly inaugurated his service as Bishop of Rome with a Mass in St. Peter's Square on 22 October 1978, and from the first moments of that Mass the attention of the world was riveted on the Catholic Church and its energetic new pope. During that inauguration Mass, John Paul exhorted the entire world with words that would serve as the signature antiphon for his nearly twenty-seven year papacy: "Be not afraid. Open wide the doors of your hearts to Christ."

On 27 April of this year, Pope Francis declared Karol Wojtyla to be among the saints in glory and from that time he is known as Pope Saint John Paul II or John Paul the Great in recognition of the world historical accomplishments of his pontificate, and in the liturgical calendar, the feast of Saint John Paul is celebrated each year on 22 October – the date of his inaugural Mass. All of which means that this Wednesday is the first celebration of Saint John Paul's feast since his canonization last April, making it an observance of special significance. If possible, attend Mass this coming Wednesday and give thanks for the gift to the Church of this extraordinary Christian witness, and if you have not yet done so, I encourage you to read George Weigel's masterful biography of Saint John Paul the Great called "Witness to Hope."

Though it scarcely seems possible, next April will be the 10th anniversary of John Paul's death on the Vigil of Divine Mercy Sunday, and in the decade since that day of grace, the Church has been given two more remarkable leaders in Pope Benedict XVI and Pope Francis, both of whom have continued the call begun by Saint John Paul to undertake a New Evangelization of the world, a project that I call Evangelical Catholicism. Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, today and forever, but the Church must teach the timeless truth of the Gospel in the circumstances of every place and time, and that requires us to approach the work of evangelization in our post-Christian world with, in John Paul's words, new ardor, new methods and new conviction. As part of your observance of the feast of Pope Saint John Paul on Wednesday, please read the principles of Evangelical Catholicism available on our website in the "What's Happening?" box, and then rededicate yourself to making your entire life a proclamation in word and deed that Jesus Christ is Lord.

THE DIOCESE OF CHARLESTON

September 9, 2014

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

World Mission Sunday is celebrated this year on October 19th, and it is then that the Church reflects upon deepest identity as the CHURCH IN MISSION. On this Sunday, Catholics of the world unite together at Mass and recommit ourselves, through our Baptism, to be missionaries. Your prayers and generous support on World Mission Sunday, through the Society for the Propagation of the Faith, directly benefit the mission Church today. Your support keeps the following missionary activity on going every day!

- 9,000 clinics caring for the sick and dying.
- 10,000 orphanages, providing a place of safety and shelter.
- 900,000 children in some of the poorest parts of the world, receive and education and the knowledge of God's great love.
- 80,000 seminarians preparing for the priesthood.
- 9,000 religious Sisters and Brothers in formation programs.

All this is taking place in 1,150 mission dioceses, mostly in Africa and Asia where the "Good News" is proclaimed and poorest of the poor receive an education and health care while experiencing the loving heart of our Lord through the services of priests, religious and lay faithful.

I wish to personally thank you for your ongoing support of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith and our vital work in 1,150 dioceses throughout the world. Only through your continued generosity can this essential work of Christ in His Church continue in our world.

I invite you to visit the new Website of our diocesan office of the Propagation of the Faith (Propfaithcharlestonsc.com) and see some of the missionary activity directly supported by our diocese, or speak to our Director, Msgr. Ed Lofton.

In the Lord's Peace,

Most Reverend Robert E. Guglielmone
Bishop of Charleston

Boy Scout Awards

Matthew Loewer received two national awards at the Court of Honor on Sunday 12 October.

The Bernard Harris Supernova Award for studies in STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics). It took him over one year to complete all the work which included 4 STEM projects. The awards started 4 years ago and it is believed he is the youngest recipient nationally.

The second award is the William Hornaday Award for work in conservation. The project has to be of at least Eagle Scout project work, his was the Educational Bird Walk behind the Our Lady of the Rosary School. The educational bird walk consisted of 14 different birdhouses for 14 different species of birds placed in the correct habitat and all with full color educational signs so students and visitors can learn about local birds. He is the youngest recipient of this award ever. He makes the 4th youth in our council to receive the award in its history. To date, just over 7000 Hornaday awards (individual, unit and adult) have been given out nationally in 100 years compared to over 2 million Eagle Scouts in the same time frame. It is very rare. He is the only active boy scout with the award in the upstate.

Troop 521 received the Hornaday Unit Award for their work with high participation on Matthew's Eagle Scout/Hornaday Project. Over 85% of the troop participated in the project of building and placing the birdhouses for the educational bird walk.
